Andrew Wiener Named VP/Leasing Director At L&L Holding Company

Andrew Wiener

Andrew Wiener has been named Vice President – Director of Leasing at L&L Holding Company, LLC, one of the city’s preeminent commercial real estate owner/management companies, it has been announced by L&L Chairman and CEO David W. Levinson.

In his new post, he will collaborate with L&L Executive Vice President David Berkey in overseeing all leasing activity for the firm’s New York City office portfolio, which comprises over 6.5 million square feet of rentable space. He will also continue to help underwrite potential acquisitions for the company.

Since joining L&L in 2010 as an Associate, and later being promoted to Leasing Director, Mr. Wiener has closed over 1.7 million square feet of space transactions, valued at over $400 million.

Before joining L&L, Mr. Wiener was an analyst and leasing agent in Cushman & Wakefield’s Strategic Agency Services Group, where he was responsible for implementing a leasing and tenant retention strategy for a 4 million square foot real estate portfolio.

A graduate of the University of Delaware, where he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, Mr. Wiener is a member of the Real Estate Board of New York (REBNY) and is active in many charities, including the State of Israel Bonds where from 2013 to 2014 he served as the co-chair of its new leadership division.

Founded in 2000 by Messers Levinson and Lapidus, Manhattan-based L&L Holding Company, LLC focuses on re-developing office buildings by identifying untapped potential assets with the goal of maximizing their value and leveraging the company’s vertically integrated platform.
